Subject: COURT OF APPEALS BRIEF

> Dear David,

> I have been out of town recently, and also tied up with court work. I have had the opportunity to review your last e-mail and attachment regarding the brief you have filed with the Michigan Court of Appeals. It would be inappropriate for me to comment on your brief, or the likelihood of success you may have.

> Notwithstanding your request to meet with me and Nick Phillips, I am going to decline. As I indicated to you earlier, I can not provide legal advice to individuals -- that is the role of an attorney hired by you to represent your interests. Judges cannot perform an advocate's function.

> You mentioned in your e-mail that this legal action has been hard on you and your family. I hope you continue to go to counselling with your wife, so that you don't let this case permanently damage your marriage. Certainly a loving wife is far more important than any one job.

> I hope you get a speedy resolution of your case in the Court of Appeals-- and that justice is done.

> Judge Timothy M. Kenny
